Panelist

Scot McRoberts
Executive Director, Virginia Council of CEOs

Scot McRoberts leads the Virginia Council of CEOs, an independent, non-profit association that serves CEOs of small and mid-sized companies in Virginia. He helped launch the organization in 2000.

Previously, McRoberts was a senior executive at the Greater Richmond Chamber of Commerce, where he led small business programs and business retention. He started his career as an executive with the Boy Scouts of America.

McRoberts has led the growth of the Virginia Council of CEOs from 25 members to more than 230 today. Utilizing a disciplined best practice model for the Council's CEO roundtables and a dogged focus on its core purpose of connecting CEOs for the purpose of sharing experiences, the Council provides a safe haven for CEOs and business owners. When last surveyed, 84% of the Council's members said that it was "the most valuable business association to which they belonged."

He is married to Teresa Kannan McRoberts. They have three children in college. His proudest honor is being named Father of the Year in 2007 by the Virginia Father's Day Council.
